

Mails.

Hongkong, 6th August, 1889. [4]

Intimations.

DAKIN'S
SPARKLING AERATED
WATERS
ARE UNSURPASSED.

SPECIAL TERMS TO LARGE BUYERS.

COAST ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

No Extra Charge for Packing.

DAKIN BROS. OF CHINA,
LIMITED,
CHEMISTS,
HONGKONG.

(Telephone No. 60.)

Hongkong, 23rd July, 1889.

A. S. WATSON & CO., LD.

ESTABLISHED A.D. 1841.

IN drawing attention to our special preparations, we beg to state that we continue to import Drugs, Chemicals, and Goods of every kind of the best description only. No other quality is kept in stock. Our long experience and intimate acquaintance with the Trade and the best sources of supply enables us to purchase direct from the Producers on the very best terms, and thus gives us an advantage which enables us to offer our Constituents the benefit of a considerable reduction in the price of all Specialities of our own Manufacture or putting up, as compared with similar articles sold elsewhere.

WATSON'S

CHOLERA AND DIARRHOEA REMEDIES.

CHOLERA MIXTURE.

As prescribed and recommended by Dr. AYRES, Colonial Surgeon, when President of the Hongkong Sanitary Board. To be used in cases of vomiting and purging attended with violent pain.

Prepared only by
A. S. WATSON & Co., Ltd.,
THE HONGKONG DISPENSARY,
Hongkong, China and Manila.
In Bottles, 1/6 and 1/3 each.

ASTRINGENT ANTIDIALARRHOEA MIXTURE.

As recommended by the London Board of Health for use in all cases of Diarrhoea, Cholera, &c.

Prepared only by
A. S. WATSON & Co., Ltd.,
THE HONGKONG DISPENSARY,
Hongkong, China and Manila.
In Bottles, 1/6 and 1/3 each.

WATSON'S
ASIATIC CORDIAL.

DOSE:—For Diarrhoea, Colic, and Dysentery, 1 tea-spoonful every 2 or 3 hours. For Cholera, 1, 2, or 3 tea-spoonfuls every hour, or in urgent cases often.

In Bottles—50 cents and $1 each.

WATSON'S CHLORODYNE.

DOSE:—Ten to twenty drops in brandy and water.

In Bottles—50 cents and $1.50 each.

WATSON'S
ASTRINGENT PILLS,
FOR DIARRHOEA, DYSENTERY, &c.

DOSE:—One pill after each liquid Motion.

In Bottles 75 cents and $1.50 each.

WATSON'S
ANODYNE LINIMENT.

For relieving pain in all cases of Spasms, Colic, Cholera, Diarrhoea, Inflammation of the Bowels, &c.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE:—Sprinkle some on hot Flannel or Spongio Pilina soaked in boiling water and apply over the seat of pain.

In Bottles, 75 Cents and $1.50 each.

BERMUDA ARROWROOT,
RUSSIAN ISINGLASS,
CALVES' FOOT JELLY.

Invalids' necessities and appliances of all kinds kept in stock.

A. S. WATSON & CO., LIMITED,
THE HONGKONG DISPENSARY,
HONGKONG, CHINA AND MANILA.

DEATH.

On the 2nd July, at Bournemouth, ALEXANDER NEWTON, late of Hongkong, China, in his forty-fifth year.

The Hongkong Telegraph

HONGKONG, TUESDAY, AUGUST 6, 1889.

TELEGRAMS.

THE ROYAL PAUPERS.

LONDON, July 27th.

Mr. Labouchere's amendment (opposing the grant to the Prince of Wales) was defeated by 398 against 116. Mr. Morley moves on Monday that the burdens of the people be not increased without an assurance that no further grants will be made.

July 29th.

The marriage of the Earl of Fife and the Princess Louise of Wales duly took place on Saturday, the 27th.

GENERAL BOULANGER.

The High Court of France has proclaimed that if General Boulanger and others do not appeal within the customary number of days, they will be declared rebels and their goods will be confiscated.

THE KAISER IN ENGLAND.

August 4th.

The Prince of Wales met the Emperor of Germany at Spitzhead, and the Queen received him at Osborne. The Emperor was gassed honorary Admiral of the Fleet. Lord Salisbury remained at Osborne throughout the Emperor's stay.

ANOTHER ROBBERY.

England has annexed Union Island, one of the Phoenix group, in the Pacific Ocean.

(From the Courier d'Haiphong)
BOULANGER.

PARIS July 28th.

The Temps states that the General will contest four hundred seats in the General Councils.

July 29th.

The results of the election for the General Councils up to today are—Republicans, 713; Conservatives, 374; proceeding, 139. Boulanger has been returned by twelve cantons.

MORE RYALTY.

July 27th.

The King of Greece is in London.

GRAT EARTHQUAKE IN JAPAN.

YOKOHAMA, July 29th.

There was a terrible earthquake at Kumamoto this morning, involving great loss of life and property.

Kumamoto is situated near the mouth of the Kumagawa, which runs into the sea on the east side of the Shimabara Ura. It is a town of some 70,000 inhabitants, and it was in the castle of Kumamoto that Saigō made his last stand against the Mikado's troops in the Satsuma rebellion. Kumamoto was once the capital of the Higo Princes. It is situated, according to Professor Milne, the seismologist, in the crater of an extinct volcano, which must have been one of the largest in the world, as the crater is 22 miles in diameter. Near by is the volcano Asosan, a very large one though only 4,100 feet high, which is always smoking, though there has been no eruption since 1873. The whole region is volcanic. It is to be hoped that the old castle of Kumamoto has been spared.—N. C. Daily News.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

OUR readers will note that the list for the disposal of 1,144 unalloyed shares in the Douglas Steamship Co. closes to-morrow afternoon.

THE returns of the number of visitors to the City Hall Museum for the week ending Aug. 4th, are:—Europeans 170, Chinese 1,577; total, 1,747.

MESSRS. Adamson, Hill & Co., agents for the Canadian-Pacific Line, inform us that the steamship havana arrived at Vancouver on the 2nd inst. from Yokohama, &c.

ACCORDING to a telegram from Nagasaki, dated 30th July, the Japanese Government has suspended twenty revision because the terms accorded to foreigners have been found to be contrary to the Constitution.

ACCORDING to Saturday's Government Gazette, His Excellency the Governor has been pleased to appoint, provisionally, Mr. Ernest Joseph Meugens to be second Harbour Officer in the Harbour Department, vice Mr. Edward Jones, promoted.

THE Manilla Herald says that there are no less than fifty young Siamese in London, all students in one or other of the liberal professions, or simply engaged in improving their acquaintance with English methods of government and ways of thought.

A TAILOR has been arrested on the charge of attacking another tailor in Gough Street, on Friday. The latter said at first that he did not know who his assailant was, but afterwards gave information which led to this arrest. The prisoner was remanded to-day.

THE heavy rain which fell steadily between Saturday and to-day caused considerable anxiety, as the superficial earth on the various banks in the Colony has hardly yet settled again after the storm in May. Fortunately no other damage than the bursting of a sewer at Wanchai has been reported, so far.

LAST night, about seven o'clock, a gang of men armed with swords and revolvers, and headed by a redoubtable ruffian known as Black-bearded Sun, entered a Chinese club in Wellington Street, and after clearing out the club finances despoiled the women of their earrings, and cleared out. Four men were subsequently arrested, and were remanded to-day.

THE Piety has been commissioned at Sheerness by Lieut.-Com. G. H. Hewitt, to take part in the mobilisation of the fleet, and the subsequent naval manoeuvres. The Piety is a gun-vessel of a new type, equipped with six 4-inch breech-loading guns, and fitted with engines of 1,200-horse power. After the manoeuvres she is to be despatched to the China Station to relieve the Exeter.

Only seven competitors from the Hongkong Rifle Association braved the elements on Saturday, to contest the first round for the Faki Challenge Cup, presented by Dr. N. ble. The strong wind and frequent showers made good scoring impossible, and after seven shots at 200 yards, standing, and at 300 yards, sitting or kneeling, Lieut. Carlyle, R.A., headed the list with 54 points, out of a possible 70; P.C. Carson being second with 51 points.

THE Minnesota State Legislature has passed a capital punishment law similar in some respects to the New York law. Under its provisions the prisoner is to be kept in solitary confinement and to see no one but his family, his lawyers, and his spiritual advisers. He is to be executed before sunrise, and may invite three persons to be present. It is made a misdemeanour for any newspaper to publish anything more about the execution than the mere fact.

THE Spanish Casino at Manila has been summarily closed because some of the members were found gambling on a scale which did not please the authorities. This is rather good, considering that the Government itself conducts a gigantic gambling affair monthly on its own account. It is rumored that the 40,000 lottery tickets issued monthly do not suffice to meet the public demand for this would-be road to fortune, and that the number is consequently shortly to be increased to 45,000.

THE Java Bode says:—The Achinese continue persecuting their harassing tactics. Sentinels and patrols come under their fire, and they take to London on the 28th June, Sir Hugh Low, late Resident at Perak, said with regard to the mineral wealth of the States, that he believed the Malay Peninsula possessed more riches in this direction than any other country in the world of the same extent. (Hear, hear.) There were very valuable territories there, the names of which were scarcely known in England. The recent speculations in Pahang in regard to gold might perhaps have given a wrong impression, as in some cases the expectations which had been formed had not been realised. But the gold washers—(cheers)—and there were several places in the Malay Peninsula which were richer than Pahang—(hear, hear)—and he hoped some day through the influence of the British Government, to extend their influence in those directions, and develop the great resources which at present were lying dormant. He thought the Malay Peninsula had great possibilities of development, which were not at present sufficiently appreciated.

THE P. & O. S. N. Co.'s extra steamer Nizam, from Bombay, left Singapore for this port at 5 p.m. yesterday.

ACCORDING to the Java papers the coffee disease is spreading far and wide, and the sugar crop is late owing to the continued rains.

THE meeting of the shareholders of the Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Co. on Saturday last, proved a revelation. We shall have a few words to say on the subject in our next issue.

MR. C. D. Harman, agent of the O. & O. S. S. Co., informs us that the steamer Gadix, with mails, &c., from San Francisco to the 20th ult., has arrived at Yokohama, and will leave for this port to-morrow.

ON the 19th ult., a disturbance occurred between some Chinese, and a Sikh constable named Peer who arrested two of the men—both scavengers. In doing so he was struck on the head with a bamboo. The men were fined $4 each the following Monday, and the Sikh went to Hospital, where he died on Sunday. The men have been re-arrested.

THE Gazette of the 25th June notifies:—The Queen has been pleased to direct Letters Patent to be passed under the Great Seal of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland granting the dignity of a Knight of the said United Kingdom unto James Russell, Esq., C.M.G., Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Hongkong and its Dependencies.

IN the House of Commons, on the 25th June, Mr. Hanbury asked the Under-Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs whether the Foreign Office had any information of the occupation by Russia of a new coaling station and naval depot in the North Pacific at Deer Island.—Sir J. Ferguson: No report of such an occupation has reached Her Majesty's Government.

THE rumour that Mr. E. R. Bellios has been made a Chinese Mandarin and the recipient of a blue glass button, is, we believe, utterly ridiculous. In doing so he was struck on the head with a bamboo. The men were fined $4 each the following Monday, and the Sikh went to Hospital, where he died on Sunday. The men have been re-arrested.

A CONTRACT has been signed between the Governor of the French possessions of Tong-King and M. A. Bavier, of Coire, under which the co-l deposits of Holong, having an area of 15,000 hectares, have been ceded to the latter. In doing so he was struck on the head with a bamboo. The men were fined $4 each the following Monday, and the Sikh went to Hospital, where he died on Sunday. The men have been re-arrested.

A MEETING was held at St. Bartholomew's Hospital on the 26th June to bid farewell to Mr. C. J. Davenport, F.R.C.S., late house surgeon, who is this week leaving for China to labour at the station of Chung-King, Sze-Chuen, South-Western China, in connection with the London Missionary Society. Professor W. D. (of Durham University), and Dr. F. Howard Taylor are also going as medical missionaries to China.—L. & C. Express.

THE Korean correspondent of a Shanghai contemporary says:—It is now freely stated in the capital and in Chemulpo that Yuen Se Kai, the Imperial Chinese Resident, is about to return to China. His successor, the late Director-in-Chief of Tongking, in Korea, has arrived. The French steamer Chastour has been here for the past week. H.B.M.'s S. Esprit arrived to-day with despatches from Peking. Everything seems quiet just now. The exit of His Excellency Yuen at the present juncture in affairs is indeed most remarkable.

ON the 16th ult., a great and thick cloud of huge grass-hoppers, for whom the proper name is more probably locusts, passed over Manila and will cause the despair of many a landed proprietor wherever they may choose to settle, by devouring, as they do, wholesale, the freshly sown crops which by the timely rain, seemed already in the germ to promise a plentiful harvest: by and by. These grass-hoppers (which are several inches long) have many a time caused the ruin of different districts by their sudden raids at unexpected times.

THE Daily Press now describes Mr. Henry Norman—whose two columns of ridiculous twaddle in yesterday morning's paper about Canton, out-herods all the "rot" he has already had published concerning the Far East—as "Our Travelling Commissioner." Mr. Norman is about as much "Travelling Commissioner" as the Daily Press as our contemporary's thirty-shilling hair-raising novel is the original product of an advertising agent. And what a queer subject of the two is the more idiotic. Mr. Norman's shallow inventions about China or Mr. Hall Caine's trash entitled "The Bondman."

ON the 3rd July Mr. Redmond asked the Under-Secretary of State for the Colonies, in the House of Commons, whether the negotiations with the Government of China on the question of Chinese emigration to Australia had been completed; and if not, whether he hoped the Government would push the matter on as rapidly as possible.—Sir J. Ferguson: The negotiations are not yet completed. As soon as the necessary arrangements are brought to a conclusion with the Australian Governments, Her Majesty's Government, which is most desirous of bringing matters to a happy issue, will push on the negotiations.

ON the 13th ult., the balance, six in number, of the convicted natives sentenced to death for rebellion in the province of Bantam were hanged at Serang. A few natives only witnessed the execution. The convicts underwent their sentence calmly. The people of the province remain quiet, but only the stationing of a permanent garrison there can secure abiding tranquillity. The Government has taken vigorous measures to stay the mischief by arresting and deporting the more prominent of the disaffected who could not be otherwise rendered harmless. Loyal natives do not approve of the Government relieving most of the rebels who had been condemned to death. They hold that the convicts will never feel grateful for the remission of sentence, which they are sure to ascribe to weakness on the part of Government.

HERE is a little plan for the Punjom people. Speaking at the Straits Settlements Dinner held in London on the 28th June, Sir Hugh Low, late Resident at Perak, said with regard to the mineral wealth of the States, that he believed the Malay Peninsula possessed more riches in this direction than any other country in the world of the same extent. (Hear, hear.) There were very valuable territories there, the names of which were scarcely known in England. The recent speculations in Pahang in regard to gold might perhaps have given a wrong impression, as in some cases the expectations which had been formed had not been realised. But the gold washers—(cheers)—and there were several places in the Malay Peninsula which were richer than Pahang—(hear, hear)—and he hoped some day through the influence of the British Government, to extend their influence in those directions, and develop the great resources which at present were lying dormant. He thought the Malay Peninsula had great possibilities of development, which were not at present sufficiently appreciated.

YESTERDAY morning a girl only twelve years of age hanged herself in Tank Lane. A coolie fell over a verandah in Praya Central, about the same time, and died soon afterwards.

A TEAM of the members of the Singapore Rifle Association will take part in the annual simultaneous match between the Association and the Sutherlandshire Highlanders here, on the 17th August. The teams are named beforehand, and the scores exchanged by letter. The scores made will constitute the first stage in the S. R. A. Challenge Cup competition, being the usual seven rounds at 200, 500, and 600 yards. The second stage consists of seven shots at 800 and 900 yards.

THE Daily Press says that the Shanghai Mercury has just published an account of a contemporary's columns without acknowledging its source. This is doubtless intended as a joke. Our morning contemporary publishes a sensational serial tale, but it certainly has never been guilty of supplying the world with anything that could be honestly called "news" for years past. What has come over dear old Granny lately? Mr. Henry Norman and his rabid sensationalism would appear to have completely upset the old lady.

THE pious fraud which perpetrates itself as the China Mail evidently has a choice clientele. On Saturday it published a highly sensational account of the Sullivan-Kilrain fight, but not as a report—oh dear no! It was hypocritically bolstered up as a leader, in this style:—"Sullivan repeatedly bore Kilrain to the ropes and punished him terribly—till that dreadful 'And then, with one terrific right-hander, he knocked him out of time' Shocking!" So Higgins gets in all the details, to please the reader who has his dollar on, and holds up his hands in pious reprobation in the next line so as to keep solid with the prayerful subscriber. Hang such cant.

THE enquiry into the cases of the Chinese rioters at Bangkok who have been captured has been completed and sentential passed, and confirmed by H. M. the King. One of the "Ang Yee" society ringleaders, including the woman Ma Law, eight are sentenced to receive 60 lashes each and to be imprisoned with hard labour (or penal servitude) for terms of 7, 5, and 3 years respectively. The general run of the rioters—those found with or without arms, and otherwise behaving themselves at and after capture, some are sentenced to one year and the remainder to six months imprisonment with hard labour. The flogging part of the sentence was subsequently carried into effect on 27th July, in public, near the Central Gaol. H. H. Prince Niphet, the present Lord Mayor, with Physic Pechanaphan and Pechadab, chief magistrates, and Luang Ramchait, magistrate, and Khoo Phradang, secretary to the Committee of the Local Government, being present. The prisoners were mustered to the number of some hundreds, in rank, under care of the Police and military forces, and the sentence was read out to them all. Eight ringleaders wearing neck chains in addition to ankle chains, then received 60 strokes each, some bearing their punishment with great stoicism. This punishment concluded, the prisoners were conducted back to gaol.

THE DAIRY FARM CO., LIMITED.

A special meeting of the shareholders of this Company was held this afternoon. Mr. G. Sharp presided, and there were present:—Hon. E. P. Chater, Messrs. V. H. Ray, (directors); E. Burnell, C. A. Gorton, J. E. C. da Rosa, H. M. Cotewall, Dr. Noble, J. P. N. da Silva, (managers), and E. W. Maitland, (secretary).

The only business was the confirmation of the following resolutions, passed at the meeting on the 20th July:—

1.—That the capital of the Company be increased to the sum of $100,000 by the issue of 7000 new shares of $10 each, and that the Memorandum of Association be altered accordingly. That of the said 7000 new shares, 3000 be offered to the persons who on the 14th day of August, 1889, shall be registered Shareholders of the Company in the proportion of one new share for each old share held by them, and such offer shall be made by a notice specifying the number of new shares which each of such registered Shareholders shall be entitled to take up, and limiting a time within which such offer is to be accepted, and such acceptance shall be made by letter addressed to the Secretary of the Company, and by the payment to the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation of the sum of $5 in respect of each new share applied for. The notice shall also state that if such offer be not accepted in manner aforesaid, the same shall be deemed to be declined and all such shares (if any) are to be declined together with the remaining 4000 shares shall be offered to the public (including shareholders) in such manner and at such times and on such conditions as the Board may determine.

3.—That Article No. VI, Subsection 1 of the Company's Articles of Association be altered by inserting therein in lieu of the figures "30,000," the figures "100,000" and in lieu of the figures "4,000" the figures "10,000."

The Chairman called attention to a slight inaccuracy in one of the reports of the proceedings at the previous meeting, in explanation of which he said that the Company had incurred a serious loss in the first year of its existence—over $13,000, and in order to assist in carrying on the operations the directors came forward and, with the sanction of the shareholders, advanced $40,000. The time a portion had been desired, but the full amount had not been advanced. The Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation also advanced $12,000 for the purchase of the farm at Pokfulam, and the China Fire Insurance Company lent $8000 towards the purchase of Sassoon's lot on the top of the hill, making altogether $38,000. The increased capital, the directors proposed amounted to $70,000. Having had $38,000, for which stock might be substituted, that left $32,000, which they proposed to use in additions to the cow-shed, and the purchase of additional stock by which the hoped to materially increase the output. Stock would be taken in pay of obligations of the Company to the extent of $38,000. If the public applied for the 4,000 shares, well and good; if not, the directors would take them, and not only take stock to pay off their own debts but also those of the Bank and the Insurance Company. They had, in common with the other shareholders, the privilege of disposing of their shares if they desired, but they were willing to take the whole amount. They did not want any priority over the other shareholders, but they would take the new issue up if it offered. It had been intended to issue the stock at a premium, but on considering the matter the directors did not see anything in the condition of the Company to justify them in doing so. But in order to meet the representations that had been made, they had determined to receive tenders for the whole four thousand available, present shareholders. There would be no questions, he moved the confirmation of the clause. Mr. Burnell seconded, and it was agreed to. Mr. Ray moved the confirmation of the second. Dr. Noble seconded. Confirmed accordingly. Mr. Chater moved the third. Mr. Ross seconded, and it having been agreed to, the proceedings terminated.

THE PUNJOM AND SUNGHIE DUA
SAMANTAN MINING COMPANY,
LIMITED.

The following is the report to be presented to the shareholders at the third ordinary half-yearly meeting, to be held at the office of the Company, on Wednesday, 7th August, at 4 p.m.:—

The directors have now the pleasure to submit the account for the half-year ending 30th September, 1888.

It will be seen that our outlay in working amounts to $14,424.10, the sum of $12,408.90 having been disbursed at Sunghie Dua, mostly in advance to miners, and in stores and provisions for them, nearly all of which we expect will be recovered out of their earnings.

During the six months much work was accomplished in opening up the mine at Punjom, and a number of drifts from the shaft were driven, in some of which encouraging prospects were found. Work has since been commenced at several outlying points at a distance from where the reef appeared, and fair samples of quartz have been obtained.

Mr. Becker found the stamps in a very inefficient condition and had them almost entirely re-erected; they are now in good working order, but no great amount of stamping was accomplished, as the manipulation of the ores required further additions to the machinery in use to bring out anything like the assay values of the ores crushed.

Mr. Becker is ordering in London the necessary Vanners and other machinery wanted, and he is also procuring all the pumping machinery which is required, and this will shortly be out and in position, and will enable us to proceed with the sinking of our shaft, which is in the meantime in abeyance.

SUNGHIE DUA.

Our working at Sunghie Dua is now under the superintendence of an experienced man, and prospects there are reported to be promising.

STEAM LAUNCH.

Unfortunately our stern wheeler Sri Pahang was lost in December last, causing much inconvenience. The insurance Companies have paid the $10,000 for which she was insured, and we have now, almost ready to be launched, a new boat to replace her, which is to cost $10,000.

The capital of the Company has been increased by the issue of 20,000 fully paid-up shares of $10, say $200,000.

LONDON COMMITTEE.

A Committee has been formed in London composed of Mr. C. D. Bottomley, Mr. F. D. Sassoon, Mr. Alex. Melver, Mr. André, and the senior partner of Messrs James Morrison & Co., to act for the Company in the sale of any portion of our concessions which it may be thought advisable to dispose of, and Mr. Becker, who is in London, will advise and work with them.

During Mr. Becker's absence, Mr. John Hardie, a gentleman of mining experience in the East, has been appointed Resident Manager at Punjom.

W. G. BRONIE,

Chairman.

1ST APRIL, 1888, TO 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1888.

Assets.
Cost of estate	$150,000.00
Hongkong Bank, fixed deposit	35,000.00
Machinery and plant, construction, buildings at Punjom and Samantan	35,631.91
Steam-launch Sri Pahang	18,000.00
Steam-launch Maud	1,000.00
Steel lighter	433.07
Stamp mill plant	2,355.57
Saw mill plant	146.91
Water wheel	2,195.93
Instruments and tools at Punjom and Samantan	2,043.13
Furniture at office	580.88
Furniture at mines and Sunghie Dua	1,313.98
Stores and provisions	3,913.99
Petty cash	117.08
Specie at mines	304.06
Opium at mines	34.80
Manager at Punjom	4,222.18
James Morrison & Co	235.46
Sundry debtors	1,807.38
Balance	146,689.33
	$406,071.99

Liabilities.
By Capital	$399,750.00
Syme & Co	2,454.40
Suspense account	—
Balance due at mines	$265.19
Call to be refunded	45.00
Hongkong Bank current account	370.10
Accounts payable	150.00
	$406,071.99

WORKING ACCOUNT.

Dr.

WORKING ACCOUNT.
Dr.
To Balance last account	$102,565.14
Charges	204.82
Salaries at mines and head office, rent and office expenses at Hongkong and Punjom	13,333.69
Legal expenses	70.00
Disbursements in concession	12,408.90
Exchange	729.42
Transport machinery and stores	1,508.90
Disbursements steam-launches Sri Pahang and Maud and agencies at Kuala Lumpur and Pekan	4,912.50
Roads and bridges, mining exploitations and explorations	2,781.47
Hotel and travelling expenses	846.35
Stamp mill working account	491.60
Water supply	136.78
Police	266.48
Labour account	1,937.78
Gold concentrator	54.97
Transport of coals	325.00
Plank and wood account	247.50
Shipment of ore to San Francisco	19.77
Firewood and charcoal account	217.49
General and assaying expenses	342.53
Royalty Sultan of Pahang	2,051.62
Tramway account	225.48
Disbursements stamp mill, machinery and plant	612.80
Dam and water supply	77.29
Commission	440.42
Compensation	390.00
Auditors' fees	150.00

Hamlets, the first of a series which Cabinet Ministers will address in the London divisions. His Lordship, in the course of his speech, strongly urged that the only means of preserving peace for the country to be thoroughly armed.

CAIRO, July 17th.

Latest advices state that the cavalry still continue to harass the dervishes, who, however, have not moved from the position they lately took up. If they advance, a decisive battle somewhere to the south of Korosko is certain.

[Korosko is a little more than 100 miles south of Assuan (the first cataract) and nearly half way between it and Wady Halfa.]

LONDON, July 18th.

Mr. Lloyd Morgan, Gladstonian Liberal candidate, has been elected member for West Carmarthen, in place of Mr. Powell, the deceased member, defeating Mr. Drummond, the Conservative candidate, by a majority of seventeen hundred.

CAIRO, July 18th.

The First Battalion, Dorset Regiment, arrived at Alexandria from Malta to-day.

Cholera measures have been ordered at Alexandria against all arrivals from Bombay. Wad-El-Najm, after all, has sent a reply to General Grenfell's manifesto summoning him to surrender, in which he recalls the fate of Hicks Pacha and General Gordon.

The Egyptian Government have addressed a fresh note to France urging her adhesion to the scheme for the conversion of Preference Stock.

LONDON, July 19th.

At a Conference of the leaders in the Bimetallism movement, it was resolved to form committees and call meetings in the principal constituencies to forward the movement.

The following is the result of the race for the Eclipse Stakes of ten thousand sovereigns, run at Sandown Park, to-day: Duke of Portland's "Ayrshire" first; Mr. Douglas Baird's "El Dorado" second; Mr. Mantou's "Seclusion" third.

July 20th.

Mr. Boulnois, the Conservative candidate, has been elected for East Marylebone, having polled 2,770 votes, whilst the Hon. Leveson Gower, Gladstonian Liberal, only polled 2,086.

July 21st.

The case of Mr. O'Brien, M.P., versus Lord Salisbury, which has been tried at Manchester, was concluded yesterday, and resulted in a verdict for the defendant. The charge brought against Lord Salisbury was that in a speech his Lordship made at Watford, last March he libelled the plaintiff, who now claimed ten thousand pounds damages.

CAIRO, July 20th.

Reinforcements upwards of one thousand strong are advancing from Sarais to join the force under Wad-El-Najm. A force of about a hundred British troops is being formed at Assuan, which will be under the command of Major-General Montmorency.

PARIS, July 21st.

The French Government in reply to the last Egyptian note have finally refused their assent to the scheme for the conversion of the Egyptian Preference debt.

ZANZIBAR, July 21st.

In consequence of the Sultan's irregular troops having threatened to massacre the Persian mercenary soldiers in the Sultan's service, Mr. Portal, Acting British Consul-General, has induced the Sultan to send the majority of his Persians on board H.M.S. Agamemnon and the rest to other places of safety. The promptness of Mr. Portal's action has averted serious bloodshed here.

LONDON, July 22nd.

The Times' Venice correspondent states it is not unlikely the Pope will soon leave Rome. Boulanger has issued another manifesto in which he scoffs at the charges in the indictment brought against him by the Committee of the Senate, and accuses Ministers of shameful suborning of witnesses.

July 24th.

The Queen's Bench has refused to grant a mandamus to compel a magistrate to issue a summons against the Duke of Cambridge, for an assault on a reporter on the staff of the Sun. Scores of Civil Servants have been dismissed, for being suspected of leaning towards Boulangerists.

It is reported that the Empress Augusta has become a convert to Catholicism.

The Earl of Hopetoun has entertained the Shah of Persia at Lillithgow.

The Marquis of Lorne refused to accept the Governorship of Victoria, on account of his wife's health, and disinclination to a lengthened separation from Her Majesty the Queen.

The accounts of the Land League show a balance of £93,000, which is unaccounted for, including $76,000 collected by the Ladies' League.

Her Majesty has received numerous requests to visit Ireland in the Spring.

The Indian Native States have offered to equip 30,000 troops for the defence of the Empire.

A large number of the Dervishes have deserted.

It is stated that France has offered an asylum to the Pope, and promised to attempt to restore his temporal power. The Pope has declined the offer, fearing that it would tend to foment a European war.

THE "OXUS-ANADYR" COLLISION.

The following is the Ceylon Observer's account of the sinking of the Anadyr in Aden harbour:—Mr. Williams, of the Ceylon P. W. D., gave an account of the collision, being assisted in his narrative by a gentleman named Mr. Ornel, of Singapore. He said:—

"The collision happened in the early morning about 4 o'clock I should say. We had arrived at Aden harbour about 2 a.m., and dropped anchor outside for an hour or two. When the pilot came on board, we picked it up again and began to make for the inner harbour. I was on deck with a number of others, and was watching the Oxus for twenty minutes before the boats collided. We could see that a collision was inevitable, and the officers of both vessels of course saw it, for at the time of actual impact both boats were going full speed ahead. When I saw that they were coming together I went down and collared my bag and traps and money and came on deck with them. The Oxus struck us on the starboard side at the forward part of the engine room and then glided all down the starboard side till she got about the after-compartment wall, and then she cleared. The shock, of course, woke every one, and there was great consternation on board with women and children rushing up on deck in their night dresses, and the lowering of boats. Though there was some confusion there was no panic. At the first alarm the Chinese coolies made a rush for the boats, but they were quickly stopped by the officers and the passengers put in, men, women, and children together. There was no lack of boat accommodation, and some boats from the Oxus also came to their assistance, but chiefly to take away the mails."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal, and I do not think much of a good deal. The officers on board the P. & O. Ballaarat say that with such a sea running she would go to pieces in three or four days."

"But I do not yet understand how the collision occurred when both boats were in sight of each other all the time."

"Well, you see we were entering the harbour, and so was the Oxus. When you get inside Aden harbour you have to do a little manoeuvring to get into the inner harbour. The collision was a general crash like the breaking of sticks. The collision smashed the rail for ten or twelve feet, and the bow of the Oxus came right into the side of Anadyr, making a great hole, by which the water rushed in, and put out the fire and the electric light. This left everything below in darkness and tended to greater confusion. The English passengers on board did not think the French officers acted very well; they lost their heads. If a big piece of canvas had been put down at the side she would never have sunk. This is a very common remedy, and a useful one. But as nothing of this kind was done the passengers were hurried into the boats as quickly as possible, and taken on board the Oxus and then ashore, where they remained till arrangements were made for them to come on board the Ballaarat. The Messengers people found the best accommodation they could for the passengers at the hotels. The Oxus was scarcely injured at all, and no one appeared to have been hurt except, I believe, one man belonging to the crew of the Anadyr. All the cargo and passengers' luggage went down, but the mails were saved. Many of the passengers have, of course, lost almost everything but their lives. We were at Aden five days before the P. & O. Ballaarat came in, and when we came on board we were treated very kindly. All the arrangements were made by the agents of the M. M. Company. There were only two Englishmen on board—Mr. Shand, Mr. Gosset, and myself (Mr. Williams) of Ceylon. Mr. Ornel of Singapore, and Mr. Godwin of Calcutta. The Anadyr is still visible. The stern is resting on the bottom, and the forward part is right above the water, but at high tide the water goes over the bridge.

The account given by Mr. Shand is very much the same as the one given by Mr. Williams. He says:—

"We arrived off Aden harbour at 2 a.m. on Thursday the 11th, and anchored till 5 o'clock. We then, with a pilot on board, made for the harbour entrance. We were close in, when we saw the S. S. Oxus, of the same line, trying to enter at the same time. She was coming towards our bows as though to tack round us. She was going at eight knots an hour, while the Anadyr was going slowly. I was sitting on the rail on the port side, and saw we were in for a collision. Just after the Oxus struck us hard amidships; and we heeled over. She struck us again, and I saw some of our boats smashed and the bulwarks knocked in. The Anadyr began to fill at once. The excitement was tremendous. The French officers acknowledged afterwards that they lost their heads, and the passengers were in a panic. We had no idea to look after so we stayed where we were, until it could be seen what was to be done next. The Oxus lowered her bows and commenced to take our passengers on board. Some of the boats of the Anadyr were got out, but they were not wanted. The three Englishmen for Colombo, Mr. Williams, of the P. W. D., Mr. Gosset, and myself were about the last to leave the ship. When we got close to the Oxus they shouted out to us in French to be quick, as they wanted to get under weigh. I said 'You have run us down, and now you want to run away without us. They wanted us to take the Anadyr in tow, and to get her to the harbour before she sank. They tried to do so, but had to give it up. After I got on board the Oxus I returned to recover what luggage I could. I got two Gladstone bags from my cabin, forward engine, and lost all the rest. There were six feet of water in the saloon then, and the passengers whose cabins were there lost all. This was about three quarters of an hour after she had been struck, and the vessel was settling down fast. She went by the stern first and sank in about another three quarters of an hour. Her bows remained above water. There are two million francs of specie on board. The Oxus, which was not damaged at all, sailed after the inquiry, which took place next day. It was conducted by General Hogg. He found that the Oxus was to blame, as it was shown that she saw from our lights that we were moving or about to do so. The rule is that two vessels must not endeavour to enter the harbour at the same time; one or other should have stopped, and neither did so. With reference to raising the Anadyr, when we left it was blowing a good deal

Intimations.

LETTERS PATENT.

In the Matter of the Petition of WILLIAM HOSKINS DANIELS, of the City of Chicago, one of the County of Cook, and State of Illinois, one of the United States of America, Gentleman for Letters Patent for the exclusive use within the Colony of Hongkong of the following invention—

An improved antiseptic compound for preserving perishable articles, for which Her Majesty's Royal Letters Patent were granted on the 2nd day of June, 1888.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Petition, Specification, and Declaration, required herein by Ordinance No. 14 of 1865, have been duly filed in the Office of the Colonial Secretary, at Hong Kong, and that it is the intention of the said WILLIAM HOSKINS DANIELS, by his duly authorized Agent and Attorney, to apply at the sitting of the Executive Council hereinafter mentioned for Letters Patent for the exclusive use within the Colony of Hongkong of the above named Invention.

And Notice is hereby also given that a sitting of the Executive Council, before whom the matter of the Petition, will come for decision, will be held in the Council Chamber, at Government Offices, Victoria, Hongkong, on THURSDAY, the 6th day of August, 1889, at 11 A.M.

ARATHOON SETH,
Clerk of Councils.

Council Chamber,
Hongkong, 27th July, 1889. [985]

THE PUNJOM AND SUNGHEE DUA SAMANTAN MINING COMPANY, (LIMITED).

THE Third Ordinary Half-Yearly Meeting of SHAREHOLDERS in the above Company will be held at the Company's Office, No. 9, Queen's Road, TO-MORROW, 7th August, at 4 P.M., for the purpose of receiving the Report of the Directors, together with a Statement of Account to 30th September, 1889.

THE TRANSFER BOOKS will be CLOSED from 24th July to 7th August, 1889, both days inclusive.

A. O'D. GOURDIN,
Secretary.

Hongkong, 27th July, 1889. [926]

THE DOUGLAS STEAMSHIP COMPANY, (LIMITED).

DISPOSAL OF UNALLOTTED SHARES.

NOTICE is hereby given that 1144 unallotted shares of $50 each in the above Company, numbered from 18857 to 20000, both numbers inclusive, are offered for public Tender upon the following conditions:

The Company shall not be bound to accept the highest or any Tender.

The above shares will not be entitled to participate in any Dividend that may be declared on the working year ended 30th June, 1889, but subsequent to declaration of such Dividend, will rank as ordinary shares in the Company, carrying the same Dividends.

All Tenders to be accompanied by a cheque equal in amount to $10, for each share applied for.

Tenders to be addressed to the General Managers of the Company and sent into the Office of the Company not later than 4 o'clock, P.M., TO-MORROW, the 7th day of August, when they will be opened. Applications to be made on printed Forms which can be obtained from the General Managers, and when sent in must be sealed and marked outside "Tender for Company's Shares."

If no allotment be made to any applicant, his deposit money will be returned to him in full, but without interest; and where the number of Shares allotted to any applicant is less than the number applied for by him, the surplus of Deposit Money will be credited in reduction of the balance payable on his allotment.

The general principle will be followed of allotment pro rata to highest Tenders:

DOUGLAS LARRAIK & Co.,
General Managers.

Hongkong, 15th July, 1889. [183]

HONGKONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION.

THE KWON KWAN YEEN CHALLENGE CUP.

THE First competition for the 1st Stage, will take place next SATURDAY, the 10th August, at 3.15 P.M., under the Conditions already notified.

The entrance Fee for this stage only is 30 cents or for the two stages is 60 cents must be sent to me before 5 P.M., on FRIDAY next, the 9th instant.

The second stage will be shot off on Saturday, the 17th instant.

A. SHELTON HOOPER,
Hon. Secretary
c/o Hongkong Club.

Hongkong, 3rd August, 1889. [158]

NOTICE.

LUZON SUGAR REFINING COMPANY, (LIMITED).

NOTICE is hereby given that the CERTIFICATE for 5 SHARES in this Company numbered 3598 to 3602, and standing in the name of Mr. C. P. CHATER on the register, is MISSING and that unless the said Certificate be produced and proof of Ownership lodged with the Undersigned by the 16th August, 1889, a NEW CERTIFICATE will be issued for the Shares.

JARDINE, MATHESON & Co.,
General Managers.

Hongkong, 2nd August, 1889. [906]

HONGKONG, CANTON AND MACAO STEAMBOAT COMPANY, LIMITED.

NOTICE TO SHAREHOLDERS.

THE DIVIDEND at the Rate of 7 per cent. and BONUS of 2 per cent. or $1.80 per Share, declared at the Ordinary Half-yearly Meeting of Shareholders held this day will be payable at the HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION, on and after TUESDAY, the 6th instant.

Shareholders are requested to apply at the office of the Company for warrants.

By Order of the Board of Directors.

T. ARNOLD,
Secretary.

Hongkong, 3rd August, 1889. [983]

HONGKONG, CANTON AND MACAO STEAMBOAT COMPANY, LIMITED.

NOTICE TO SHAREHOLDERS.

NOTICE is hereby given that an EXTRA-ORDINARY GENERAL MEETING of the Company will be held at the Company's Office, No. 18 Bank Buildings, Queen's Road, Hongkong, on TUESDAY the 20th August, 1889, at 3 O'CLOCK P.M., the objects and business of which meeting will be to submit for confirmation the special resolutions passed at the meeting held this day.

By Order of the Board,

T. ARNOLD,
Secretary.

Hongkong, 3rd August, 1889. [986]

Intimations.

A. G. GORDON & Co., LIMITED.

THE STATUTORY GENERAL MEETING of the above Company will be held in the Company's Office, 1, Pedder's Street, on MONDAY, the 13th August, 1889, at 4 O'CLOCK P.M.

A. G. GORDON,
General Manager.

Hongkong, 2nd August, 1889. [978]

THE DARVEL BAY TRADING COMPANY, LIMITED.

NOTICE is hereby given that the STATUTORY MEETING of the above Company will be held at the General Managers' Office, No. 9, Queen's Road Central, Hongkong, on THURSDAY, the 8th August, 1889, at 4 O'CLOCK P.M.

REUTER, BROCKELMANN & Co.,
General Managers.

Hongkong, 1st August, 1889. [970]

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Ordinary Half-yearly MEETING of the SHAREHOLDERS in this Corporation will be held at the CITY HALL, Hongkong, on SATURDAY, the 24th day of August, current, at 12 O'CLOCK NOON for the purpose of receiving the Report of the Court of Directors together with a Statement of Accounts to 30th June, 1889.

By Order of the Court of Directors,

G. E. NOBLE,
Chief Manager.

Hongkong, 1st August, 1889. [971]

HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

NOTICE is hereby given that the REGISTER of SHARES of the Corporation will be CLOSED from SATURDAY, the 10th day of August, (both days inclusive) during which period no transfer of Shares can be registered.

By Order of the Court of Directors,

G. E. NOBLE,
Chief Manager.

Hongkong, 1st August, 1889. [972]

SHANGHAI LAND INVESTMENT COMPANY, LIMITED.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL.....Tls. 1,000,000

CAPITAL PAID-UP.....Tls. 600,000

BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

J. S. PURDON, Esq., Chairman, of Messrs. MAITLAND & Co.

H. R. HEARN, Esq., of Messrs. ALFRED DENT & Co.

E. J. HOGG, Esq.

JOHN WALTER, Esq., Manager the HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

A. G. WOOD, Esq., of Messrs. GIBB, LIVINGSTON & Co.

BANKERS:

THE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

LOANS made on MORTGAGE ON LAND, BUILDINGS, &c.

PROPERTIES bought and sold.

ESTATES MANAGED and all kinds of LAND AGENCY and COMMISSION business conducted.

GIBB, LIVINGSTON & Co.,
Agents.

Shanghai, 19th July, 1889. [938]

THE HONGKONG LAND INVESTMENT AND AGENCY COMPANY, LIMITED.

SUBSCRIBED CAPITAL.....$5,000,000

PAY-UP CAPITAL.....2,000,000

RESERVE FUND.....1,250,000

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

Hon. J. J. KESWICK, Chairman.

Hon. C. P. CHATER, Managing Directors.

J. S. MOSES, Esq., Vice-Chairman.

E. A. SOLOMON, Esq.

J. S. MOSES, Esq.

S. C. MICHAELSEN, Esq.

G. E. NOBLE, Esq.

LEE SING, Esq.

POON PONG, Esq.

BANKERS.

THE HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANKING CORPORATION.

MONEY advanced on Mortgage, on Land, and Buildings.

Properties purchased and sold.

Estates Managed and all kinds of Agency and Commission business relating to land, etc., conducted.

Full particulars can be obtained at the Company's Office, No. 5, Queen's Road Central.

A. SHELTON HOOPER,
Secretary.

Victoria Buildings,
Hongkong, 3rd May, 1889. [533]

THE SHARE LIST WILL CLOSE ON SATURDAY, THE 10th INSTANT, AT 1 P.M.

INCORPORATED UNDER THE COMPANIES' ORDINANCES, 1865 TO 1886.

CAPITAL.....$250,000

DIVIDED INTO 10,000 SHARES OF $25 EACH.

Payable $5 on Application, $10 on Allotment, and the balance as required in instalments of not more than $5.

Shares taken up by the Vendors.....4,000

Shares now offered to the public.....6,000

Total.....10,000

DIRECTORS:

CHAIRMAN: JOSEPH W. NOBLE, Esq.

E. JONES HUGHES, Esq.

L. GORHAM, Esq.

FUNG WA CHUN, Esq.

CHEONG KAI, Esq.

Joins after allotment.

Applications for Shares will be received until the 10th day of August, 1889, and must be made on the proper forms for that purpose and forwarded to the Chartered Bank of India Australia and China together with the amount payable on application.

Prospectuses and share forms may be had of the Bankers or at the Office.

BANKERS:

CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA, AND CHINA.

SOLICITOR:

ARTHUR BERNARD RODYK, Esq.

OFFICE (per. lim.)

2, D'AGUILAR STREET.

Hongkong, 31st July, 1889. [931]

STEAMERS EXPECTED IN HONGKONG.

STEAMERS.	FROM.	DATE DUE.	AGENTS.
Preussen.	Bremen.	August 7th	Melchers & Co.
Diomed.	Liverpool.	August 7th	Butterfield & Swire.
Port Fairy.	Vancouver.	August 9th	Adamson, Bell & Co.
Japan.	Calcutta.	August 10th	D. Sassoon, Sons & Co.
Nizam.	Bombay.	August 10th	P. & O. S. N. Co.
Abyssinia.	Vancouver.	August 24th	Adamson, Bell & Co.

STEAMERS LOADING IN HONGKONG.

DESTINATION.	VESSELS.	AGENTS.	DATE OF LEAVING.
London, &c., via Suez Canal.	Thames.	P. & O. S. N. Co.	Aug. 10th, at noon.
London, via Suez Canal.	Menelaus.	Butterfield & Swire.	Aug. 10th, at noon.
Marseilles, via Saigon, &c.	Yangtze.	Messageries Maritimes.	Aug. 13th, at noon.
London, via Suez Canal.	Preussen.	Melchers & Co.	Aug. 28th, at 4 p.m.
Genoa, via Bombay, &c.	Bisagno.	Carlson & Co.	Aug. 8th, at noon.
London, via Suez Canal.	Orion.	Austro-Hung. Lloyd's Co.	Aug. 10th, at noon.
London, via Suez Canal.	Benlawers.	Gibb, Livingston & Co.	Aug. 10th, at noon.
New York, via Suez Canal.	City of Rio de Janeiro.	Pacific Mail S. S. Co.	Aug. 13th, at 1 p.m.
San Francisco, via Ythama.	Gaelic.	Adamson, Bell & Co.	Aug. 22nd, at 1 p.m.
San Francisco, via Ythama.	Port Fairy.	Gibb, Livingston & Co.	Aug. 13th, at 4 p.m.
Vancouver, H.C., via K., &c.	Ghaire.	Melchers & Co.	Aug. 10th, at noon.
Sydney, Melbourne, &c.	Mennon.	P. & O. S. N. Co.	Aug. 10th, daylight.
Sandakan, Kudat, &c.	Verona.	Gibb, Livingston & Co.	About Aug. 8th.
Yokohama, via Nag., &c.	General Werder.	P. & O. S. N. Co.	About Aug. 7th.
Yokohama, Kobe, &c.	Benlarig.	Butterfield & Swire.	Aug. 8th, at noon.
Kobe and Yokohama.	Venetia.	Siemssen & Co.	Aug. 18th.
Singapore.	Sungkiang.	Melchers & Co.	To-morrow, at 4 p.m.
Tientsin.	Peking.	Butterfield & Swire.	Quick despatch.
Shanghai.	Preussen.	Arline, Matheson & Co.	Aug. 9th.
Shanghai.	Kustang.	Russell & Co.	To-morrow, at 3 p.m.
Shanghai, via Swatow.	Zafra.	Jardine, Matheson & Co.	To-morrow, at 5 p.m.
Manila, via Amoy.	Nanjing.	Geo. R. Stevens & Co.	To-morrow, at 2 p.m.
Manila.	Independent.	Hop Hing Hong.	To-morrow, at 4 p.m.
Saigon.	Pakhan.		Aug. 8th, at 8 a.m.

Intimations.

INTIMATION.

J. Blackhead & Co.,

SHIP-CHANDLERS, SAIL-MAKERS,

AND

PROVISION MERCHANTS,

NAVY CONTRACTORS,

AND

GENERAL COMMISSION AGENTS

No. 11, Praya Central,

(Opposite Pedder's Wharf).

SOLE AGENTS

for

RAHTJEN'S

GENUINE

COMPOSITION

FOR

THE BOTTOMS OF IRON SHIPS.

CARBOLINEUM AVENARIUS

PRESERVATIVE AGAINST

ROTTING, DECAY, &c., OF WOOD.

SAPOLIO.

ENOCH MORGAN'S SON'S

SAPOLIO

FOR GENERAL CLEANING PURPOSES.

CHK. MOTZ & Co., BORDEAUX CLARETS.

MAX HAASEN'S FRANKFURT ON M.

CONSERVED MEATS.

VEGETABLES AND FRUIT.

CEMENT from the celebrated Factory of Hem-moor.

SWEDISH TAR and OREGON PINE

LUMBER.

FLensburg STOCKBEER.

ENGINEERS' AND BLACKSMITHS'

MACHINERY AND TOOLS.

EVERY KIND OF

SHIP'S STORES AND REQUISITES

ALWAYS IN STOCK

AT

REASONABLE PRICES.

ALL KINDS OF

COALS

SUPPLIED AT THE SHORTEST NOTICE

Hongkong, 26th June, 1889. [183]

NOTICE.

JEY'S SANITARY COMPOUNDS

COMPANY, LIMITED.

JEY'S WOOD PRESERVER OR

ANTISEPTIC PAINT.

THE Undersigned have this day been appointed SOLE AGENTS for the sale of these PERFECT DISINFECTANTS, and are prepared to supply quantities to suit purchasers, at Wholesale Prices, Extra Special terms for Shipping and large Orders.

Sir ROBERT RAWLINSON, C.B., C.E., Chief

Sanitary Engineer, Local Government Board

London, says:

"It is the best Disinfectant in use."

W. G. HUMPHREYS & Co.,

Bank Buildings.

Hongkong, 19th June, 1888. [12]

NOTICE.

HONGKONG & WHAMPOA

DOCK COMPANY, LIMITED.

SHIPMASTERS AND ENGINEERS

are respectfully informed that, if upon their arrival in this Harbour none of the COMPANY'S FOREMEN should be at hand,

ORDERS FOR REPAIRS, if sent to the HEAD

OFFICE, No. 14, Praya Central, will receive